Corre Partners Investment Update

June 25, 2026 - Corre Partners Management, LLC (“Corre”) Announces the Completion of Doncasters Group public listing on the New York Stock Exchange (Ticker: DPC)

We are pleased to announce that a key Corre investment holding, Doncasters, went public earlier today on the NYSE. Trading under the ticker “DPC”, this public listing marks a tremendous investment journey for Corre that began at the genesis of the Company’s turnaround. The Company’s transformation has been truly a complete one, with Doncasters now a preeminent supplier of choice across its aerospace and industrial gas turbine (IGT) end markets.

Reflecting on the journey, our investment in Doncasters highlights well the value creation that Corre seeks to unlock via both its active engagement approach and equity mindset to credit investing. Recognizing the need for strong leadership early on, our partner Jiten Sanghai led our team and the holder base in the recruitment of a strong Board, new CEO, and senior management leadership group that executed the business transformation that has made this public listing possible. Corre capitalized on early dislocation by adding to its holdings in the equity-linked PIK term loan, with these steady purchases making Corre the largest PIK holder in Doncasters for much of the Company’s turnaround journey. During that time, we encouraged and collaborated with management and the Board to choose the more value maximizing strategic exit path of an IPO listing over the usual sale path and helped raise non-dilutive capital to finance the Company’s robust commercial aerospace and IGT growth.

Corre would like to take this opportunity to express our deep appreciation to the Doncasters management team and Board for effectuating this turnaround so successfully. This collaborative effort has also extended across the entire Corre team, whose tireless engagement has driven our strong conviction in this special situation investment that has delivered a great risk-adjusted outcome so far. We expect the Company to continue to build on its success in the public markets, and we look forward to keeping everyone updated on this new chapter.
